Nov. 5, 1903 - May 2, 1907

Invitations are out for the marriage of Otto W. Neumann to Miss Bertha Dumke, to take place next Thursday morning at the Wild Rice Church north of town.

* * * * *

November 12, 1903

The marriage of Robert Dumke to Miss Lena Krause occurred yesterday at half past ten o'clock, at the Wild Rice Church north of town, Rev. Hilgendorf officiating.

The bride is the daughter of one of the Wild Rice section's prosperous farmers and has spent the greater part of her life in Richland County. The groom is a highly respected young man, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dumke, and the happy couple have the congratulations and best wishes of a large circle of friends for a long and happy married life.

January 7, 1904

The breach of promise case of Pauline Machkovich vs. Anton Wohlwend was settled out of court at Wahpeton, the plaintiff receiving about $1,000 damages according to rumor. The case possessed many salacious features and would have regaled the choice crowd of court loafers who take pleasure in such diversion, had it been brought to trial. The plaintiff in the case is still under indictment at Morris, MN., on the charge of making away with her infant child.

February 11, 1904

The average North Dakota preacher is not to be outdone by small difficulties. Over at Fairmount the other day a couple presented themselves at the home of Rev. Hunter and asked him to perform a marriage ceremony. Inquiry developed the fact that the groom had secured a license in Minnesota.

After deliberating a moment the sky pilot jumped into the buggy with the couple, drove across the line into Minnesota, and performed the ceremony in the open air. The party then returned to the groom's home on the North Dakota side where the wedding was fittingly celebrated.

LEAP YEAR ROMANCE

A leap year romance very much beyond the ordinary affairs of the heart, in which a woman's deftness in combining love and business and a man's ignorance of feminine nature are the chief elements, has recently been enacted over at White Rock. A genuine leap year proposal, a twelve mile ride by the hero, a leap into matrimony and the ownership of three building lots...and all inside of the space of three hours, constitute in brief the main incidents in the drama.

M. S. Olson, formerly manager of the S. E. Oscarson Company of that place, jestingly asked one of his fellow clerks, Miss Eva Lund, how her Leap Year ambitions were coming on, and incidentally offered to present her with three building lots of an aggregate value of $300 if she would get married before 8 o'clock that evening.

Satisfying herself that the offer would be made good if the conditions were complied with, Miss Lund quietly left the store and proceeded to the warehouse and outlined a plan to Bert Soe, her fiance. There was but little time for detailed explanations, and Mr. Soe telephoned to Wheaton to have a license ready and sent a hurry call for a fast team of horses. The time limit was 8 o'clock.

At 7:30 PM all the formalities incident to launching upon a matrimonial career were over, and Mr. Olson, summoned to the long distance telephone, was informed that the course of true love had run both smoothly and rapidly and that he was the loser to the extent of three building lots. Mr. Olson intends to adhere strictly to his part of the compact.

We are pleased to announce the approaching marriage of our popular Northern Pacific Agent, Mr. Fred Stokeley. The bride's name is Miss Rosa Hoeft of Deer Creek, MN. After a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Stokeley will return to Great Bend to reside and will be a welcome addition to our married set.

* * * * *

March 17, 1904

A wedding of considerable local interest took place in Minneapolis on Tuesday evening of this week at 8 PM., Miss Clara Isabel Balentine and Edward F. Wirth being the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's brother, S. Balentine, 1028 East 25th St., the beautiful and impressive service of the Presbyterian Church being used.

The contracting parties are too well known to need any introduction to local readers, the bride having been, for a couple of years, one of the nurses in the hospital here and a favorite among the younger social set. Her genial manner made friends on every hand and she will be welcomed back to Hankinson by all who knew her.

The groom is a leading real estate and insurance agent and has called Hankinson his home for ten or twelve years. He has a host of friends not only in Hankinson but in Wahpeton, where he was Deputy Register of Deeds for two years, and all join in extending hearty congratulations and best wishes for the future happiness and prosperity of the newly wedded couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Wirth arrived home on this morning's train and will at once go to housekeeping in the Lilley cottage on south Main St.

* * * * *

March 18, 1904

August Knaak and Miss Anna Klinger were married at the German Evangelical Church this morning, Rev. Kunz officiating.

* * * * *

April 14, 1904

C. S. Phelps departed Saturday for Minneapolis, on Tuesday a marriage license was issued to Clyde S. Phelps and Miss Myra Johnson, and the presumption here is that another of Hankinson's popular young couples have been joined in wedlock.

The Hankinson friends of the couple have no further knowledge of the wedding than that given above, but it is expected that they will arrive in Hankinson within a few days and at once go to housekeeping in the King cottage on the north side of town, which Mr. Phelps leased some time ago and has furnished for occupancy. The newly wedded pair are too well known to need any extended introduction to local readers. For several years the groom has been a valued employee of John R. Jones and at the present time has a responsible position in the latter's office. The bride for some time past has been employed in Mr. Jones' office in the capacity of stenographer, and during her residence in Hankinson has formed a large circle of friends who extend congratulations and best wishes.

* * * * *

April 14, 1904

A quiet home wedding occurred last Thursday evening at 8 PM when Miss Clara Koves and Mr. Gilbert P. Armstrong were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Strubel at 8 o'clock, Rev. Bremer of Great Bend officiating.

The ceremony was witnessed by only the immediate relatives. The contracting parties are well and favorably known, the bride having resided in this vicinity almost since childhood, while the groom for the past year or more has been bookkeeper at the mill. They are popular with all and have the congratulations and best wishes of the entire community. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong have gone to housekeeping in the Odenbach cottage on the west side.

An exchange says that it is singular that the State of Matrimony has never made any effort to be admitted to the union. It is bound by hugging and kissing on one side and cradles and babies on the other. Its chief products are population, broom handles and staying out nights. It was discovered by Adam and Eve while trying to discover a northeast passage out of paradise. Surely all these requisites entitles her to a seat in the statehood.

WITTMAN - TIX WEDDING

Last Tuesday morning at the St. Martin's Church occurred the marriage of William Wittman and Miss Barbara Tix.

At 10:30 AM the strains of the wedding march vibrated through the church and the bridal pair entered attended by Henry Gieyer and Miss Agnes Campbell, and were ushered to the altar where they were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Father Greve. Father Mangan of Pipeston was also present.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party were driven to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. N. Goche, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served to a number of invited guests, including Father Greve and Mangan, after which dancing and cards furnished amusement for the guests.

The groom is employed at Hankinson, ND., in the leading hotel as clerk and is one of the popular and enterprising young men of the town. The bride formerly resided at Bancroft, IA., and by her endearing ways has made a host of friends wherever she has been.

The bride was dressed in a dress of white silk mulle, trimmed with white silk lace and carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom was dressed in the conventional black.

To the happy couple The NEWS wishes to congratulate them upon their good choice, as the opinion of all is that they are rightfully matched and we hope that in the cares and trials which occur in life, that they may be always gay and happy in each other's love.

MISS WILLIAMS MARRIED

GLENNWOOD (MN.) Gopher Press:...A wedding that will come as a surprise to Glennwood people was solemnized at Minneapolis last evening when W. E. Curtis, of this city, and Miss Isabelle H. Williams, of Hankinson, ND., were made man and wife. Mr. Curtis left for Minneapolis yesterday without giving out even a hint as to the nature of his visit to that city. But the cat jumped out of the bag mysteriously.

The marriage took place at the home of the bride's sister at 3128 Pillsbury Ave., at 8 PM., according to the ritual of the Presbyterian Church, a Minneapolis pastor officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by a small party of intimate friends and relatives. After the ceremony the happy couple were showered with congratulations and best wishes and were given an elaborate wedding supper. They were also the recipients of many valuable and beautiful wedding gifts.

The bride is the daughter of prominent Lime Springs, IA. residents and prior to the announcement of her engagement a short time ago, was employed as bookkeeper for a large retail store at Hankinson.

The groom is a scholar from Boston who has made this city his home for the past year. He is employed as foreman of the Johnson Bros. ice cream factory in this city. He enjoys a wide acquaintance here and is popular. Before coming here he was similarly engaged at Willmar where the news of his marriage will come as a genuine surprise to his bachelor friends.

They will make this city their future home and reside temporarily at the residence of Mrs. P. R. Holton on Greene Street.

The Gopher Press joins with a host of friends of Mr. Curtis in hearty congratulations.

KINNEY - ROWE

A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kinney Wednesday afternoon when their niece, Miss Blanche A. Kinney, was united in marriage to Mr. Winfield A. Rowe of Fargo, Rev. H. E. Walker reading the service in the presence of a few invited guests. The different rooms of the home were tastefully decorated for the occasion. The bay window of the back parlor was a veritable bower of golden-rod. From the center suspended a slipper filled with sweet peas. At the close of the singing of that impressive solo "Oh Promise Me." sung by Mr. Charles Rogers, Miss Price played the bridal march from "Lohengrim" which announced the coming of the bridal party who entered the room unattended, standing in the center of the bay-window, where they were met by the officiating clergyman. After a short but impressive service they received the congratulations and best wishes of the friends present.

Shortly after, the guests were invited to the dining room which greeted the eye in a most attractive manner. From the center of the ceiling suspended a large bunch of white ribbon loops from which extended four ends terminated at each corner of the table in a bow filled with pansies. Dainty refreshments were served from a well appointed table which were fully enjoyed.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white Persian lawn trimmed with lace and ribbon. The going away gown was brown silk with hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe left on the evening train for their future home in Fargo, ND.

DIVORCED COUPLE REMARRIES

Monday afternoon, A. J. Dunham and Mrs. Elizabeth Dunham of DeVillo Township were married by Judge Jersin of the county court.

More than thirty years ago these people were happily married in an eastern state. They came to Richland County more than twenty years ago, and opened a large farm, raised a nice family and prospered. But the serpent crept in, misunderstandings arose, and Mr. Dunham left the home which his labor had established.

Six years ago Dunham left the country, and Mrs. Dunham sued for divorce on grounds of desertion. She secured the divorce, but that did not bring happiness. Years passed and both reflected. Their differences gradually grew smaller until they finally disappeared.

One day Dunham, thinking of his family in the west wrote them a letter. An answer was returned, and he wrote again. Letter followed letter, and in one was an invitation to visit the old home. Dunham took the fastest train for the west.

He and Mrs. Dunham talked it all over, and they decided they had made many mistakes and they would rectify them. They came to Wahpeton, and their marriage ends all. Many old friends extend congratulations and best wishes for the future.Globe....

A husband came home one evening to find a note left for him by his wife. Carelessly he opened it but as he read his face blanched. "My God!" he exclaimed, "how could it have happened so suddenly?" And snatching his coat and hat he rushed to a hospital which was near his home.

"I want to see my wife, Mrs. Brown, at once," he said to the head nurse, "before she goes under the ether. Take my message to her at once." "Mrs. Brown," echoed the nurse, "there is no Mrs. Brown here." "Then to which hospital has she gone?" asked the distressed husband, "I came home," and he handed the note to the nurse, who read: "Dear husband: I have gone to have my kimona cut out. ...Belle."

McGRAY - WOODHOUSE

MARRIED:....At the home of the brides parents, Wednesday evening, August 22nd, 1906, Miss Anna May McGray to Mr. John C. Woodhouse, Rev. W. A. Whitcomb officiating.

The above announcement will be pleasing news to the many friends of the bride in Hankinson and vicinity. The wedding was a quiet one, only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present. Following the ceremony a dainty wedding supper was served and the newly wedded couple left on the Great Northern train for a short bridal tour. They will be at home to their friends at 499 Laurel Ave., St. Paul, after Sept. 15th.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. McGray of this place, but for several years has spent most of her time in Wahpeton. Nevertheless she has a host of friends in this vicinity, and all join in extending best wishes.

The groom is a Pullman car conductor on the Northern Pacific, running between St. Paul and the coast, and has been in the railroad business for years. That he has the confidence and esteem of the company is attested by the fact of his steady advancement since he first entered the service.

The mother and sister of the groom arrived Monday from St. Paul to be present at the wedding.

MIKE MULLINS MARRIED

The genial postal clerk, Mr. Mike Mullins, has joined the army of benedicts and hereafter will be one of the "at home gentlemen," if you please.

The happy affair happened at Portal last week by which Miss Margaret Daily and Mike Mullins were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock, among admiring friends and showered with congratulations, and hereafter will reside in their comfortable home in Portal.

Concerning the bridegroom there is no need of telling what every one knows, that he is a fine fellow capable of making a good woman happy, honored and respected among his fellow men and co-workers...but it's all true nevertheless.

The bride was at one time Co. Supt. of Schools in Ward Co. but has been living in Portal for several years and teaching in the public schools, during which time she has built a nice residence in Portal and proved up on a valuable claim near there and now seeks to make Mr. Mullins happy by presiding over the household affairs.

Immediately after the wedding ceremonies the couple took the C. P. train to Banff where they will enjoy two weeks of their honeymoon.Enderlin Independent....

A. D. Paulson, an extensive dealer in land at Sisseton, persuaded his wife last fall to go for a six months visit to Oregon. In her absence he quietly secured a divorce. The publication of the decree fell under the eyes of a friend who immediately sent a marked copy to Mrs. Paulson, who hurried home a month sooner than expected, and has begun proceedings to have the decree set aside. It is reported that previous to going from home her signature was given to a number of papers which she did not read, supposing them to be instruments connected with her husband's land business, but which were really deeds to all their property and a consent to divorce proceedings. Mr. Paulson has been closing up his land and banking business there preparatory to establishing himself in North Dakota, where, it is rumored, dwells the inevitable woman in the case.

There are six young children in the Paulson family, all given by the decree to the husband. * * * * * April 11, 1907

DIVORCE CASE SETTLED

Readers of The NEWS are somewhat familiar with the now famous Paulson divorce case at Sisseton....how it was charged that while Mrs. Paulson was away in Oregon last winter, Paulson procured a divorce from her without her knowledge and married another woman; how Mrs. Paulson came back from the coast and succeeded in getting the case reopened and the divorce set aside, and was given a judgement of over $4,000 and the home in Sisseton. Then followed the arrest of Paulson in Browns Valley and his refusal to go over into South Dakota without requisition papers; the attempt to get some sort of settlement on the basis of a divorce being granted to Paulson. But "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned," and Mrs. Paulson would consent to no settlement which contemplated giving her recreant hubby his freedom. It was claimed that Paulson had no money and no property, but after many months the attorneys have succeeded in effecting a compromise, with the result that Mrs. Paulson gets the divorce, the home in Sisseton and an equity in several farms.

Mrs. Huvstad, living on a farm near Colfax, has committed suicide. A week ago she told her neighbors she was going on a visit. She went to the barn and fed hay and feed to the stock and disappeared. Her neighbors then instituted a search. They entered the cellar under the house and found that she had committed suicide by cutting her throat, but no knife or other instrument was found. She had dug a hole and succeeded in partially burying herself. Her husband died about two months ago and since that time she had been demented.

Harry J. Clark, a well known Lidgerwood business man, was the victim of a deer hunting tragedy near Coal Harbor, 70 miles north of Bismarck, on Wednesday of last week. In company with C. C. Smith he went up there about two weeks ago, and in going through some underbrush was mistaken for a deer by another hunter and shot through the body, the ball entering about four inches to the right of the navel and coming out at the back.

He was taken at once to Coal Harbor and Dr. Shanley of Lidgerwood wired for, but poor Clark died Thursday morning before medical help arrived. Deceased was a single man but had a sister living at Lidgerwood. He was well known here, having joined the local K. P. Lodge a couple of years ago. The remains were brought to Lidgerwood and the funeral held Tuesday.

Farmers tributary to Windom post-office over in Roberts County, are agitated over the fact that fully 100 hogs that have been running at large have recently become so wild and fierce that they attack human beings who happen to come near them.

Marion Barker, a well known farmer, was attacked in a most vicious manner by one of the wild boars, receiving an ugly wound in the knee. Blood poisoning followed and Mr. Barker's death is hourly expected. This incident has so aroused Barker's former neighbors that many of them have armed themselves and intend to hunt down and exterminate the hogs. Nobody appears to claim ownership to the animals. For several weeks they obtained food from various cornfields in the neighborhood but since the corn has been picked they are in a starving condition and are made mad from the pangs of hunger. They resemble the razorback specie and can scale a four rail fence with ease.

Martin Blake, a young man of 23, committed suicide by blowing his brains out with a shotgun at the home of his Aunt, Mrs. Geo. Blake, ten miles southwest of Wyndmere late last Tuesday evening. Poor health is thought to have been the cause of his self-destruction. On the evening in question he went to the barn and ascended to the hay loft where he drove a nail into the wall and hung the lantern on it. He then fastened a single barrel shot gun in such a manner that he could discharge the same with a short stick. After lying down he placed his eye to the barrel of the gun and with his left hand discharged the same, blowing a hole clean through his head. His Aunt heard the report of the gun and he was found dead a few minutes after he had committed the act.

He leaves a mother in Canada. Deputy Stanton and Coroner Kaufmann held an inquest over the remains Wednesday, the verdict being in accordance with the facts above given.

A sad accident occurred last Saturday which resulted in the death of Wm. Eichlen, a farmer living about fourteen miles southwest of here.

Eichlen had been to Veblin and started home alone in a top buggy. He was intoxicated and fell asleep, his head becoming fastened in the wedge shaped support of the top of the rig. In endeavoring to extricate himself he apparently had fallen out of the buggy and was slowly choked to death. The accident happened in the same neighborhood as the fire a year ago which resulted in the death of Henke and young Zenbarth. The deceased leaves a wife and family to mourn his sudden and untimely taking off.

DEATH OF A PIONEER

Gottlieb Abraham passed peacefully away at the hospital at 7:30 PM Monday evening. He had been slowly growing weaker day by day and the end had been expected for some time.

Deceased was born in Germany on April 3, 1819, and had he lived until next April he would have reached the age of 85 years. He was married in 1839 to Rosa Reimer, who survives him at the age of 76 years.

They came to America in 1870, settling in Wisconsin where they resided until 1887, when they moved to Hankinson and have since resided with their daughters. A family of eleven children were born to them, six of whom are living. Of these five are residents of Hankinson....Mrs. Ferd. Hoefs, Mrs. Theo. Heling, Mrs. Langbehn, Mrs. J. Heling and August Abraham, the latter being the only son. The other daughter, Mrs. Henrietta Schmidt, resides in California.

For eleven years after coming to Dakota they resided with Mr. and Mrs. R. Heling, but for the past four years have made their home with Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Heling. Deceased, in addition to his widow and children, has four sisters living in Michigan. He lived to see as descendants 28 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon, a short service being conducted at the house and public services at the German Evangelical Church, Rev. Kunz officiating. The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery southwest of town.

Again has the small man who defends himself with the first weapon been vindicated by a jury of twelve good men and true. At Milnor last fall two brothers, Blew by name, became involved in a difficulty with the village marshal, Nels Foss, and the latter seized one of them by the throat and attempted to choke him.

The latter drew a revolver and fired three shots at the marshal, none of which inflicted serious injury. The marshal died a couple of weeks later from pneumonia and an attempt was made to prove that his death was the result to some extent of the shooting.

The Blews were tried in district court at Forman last week, and though the case was stubbornly fought the jury returned a verdict of acquittal after being out half a day, the opinion being that Blew had fired the shots in self defense and was justified in so doing.

FROZE to DEATH

Willie Schroeder, a 16 year old boy, died this morning at 3 AM at the hospital here as a result of cold and exposure while returning home from Wahpeton to his home in Summit Twp., three miles northeast of Senora, last Friday night.

Deceased was attending school at Wahpeton and Friday a brother and hired man drove from the farm to Wahpeton. The younger brother was to return with them, and before leaving town they went to Breckenridge and had a drink or two. This seemed to excite the former greatly and they had some difficulty in quieting him. Finally they started home with him in the bottom of the sleigh, but lost their way and wandered in the storm until nearly three o'clock in the morning. The other two occupants of the sleigh were pretty cold and their faces were frost bitten, but the boy was in much worse condition. His face, hands and feet were badly frozen and he was unconscious.

Failing to revive him the family became alarmed and brought him to the Hankinson Hospital Monday afternoon. By this time he was in such condition that there was little chance to save his life and he passed away at 3 AM this morning, having been delirious from the time he reached the hospital. Had he survived, amputation of both hands and feet would have been necessary and the sight of one eye destroyed.

He was a fine physical specimen, measuring six feet four inches and large in proportion. Deceased was the son of August Schroeder, one of the most substantial farmers in Summit Township.

The remains were taken home today and the funeral will be held at Great Bend Saturday, Rev. Hink to conduct the service. The family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in thier great affliction.

OBITUARY

DIED:....Mrs. Bridget Sweeney, at the home of her son, Daniel Sweeney, in Elma Township, on Wednesday, Feb. 10th, 1904, at the age of 70 years, as a result of a third stroke of paralysis.

Deceased was born in Canada, her maiden name being Bridget O'Connor. She was married to Patrick Sweeney, who died in 1889. Of this union ten children were born, seven of whom are living.....Mrs. S. Hunt of Yankton, SD.; Mrs. Lizzie Gries of Hibbing, MN.; Mrs. W. L. Dunham, of Wilson Creek, WA.; Mrs. John Finn of River Falls, WI.; James Sweeney of Bowbells, and Daniel and Frank Sweeney of Elma Township. Of these all attended the funeral except Mrs. Finn and Mrs. Dunham, who were unable to be present owing to the distance at which they live.

Deceased came to North Dakota 23 years ago and has since resided in Elma Twsp. In addition to the children, deceased is survived by a brother who lives at Gettysburg, SD.

Deceased was a life long Catholic and died in that faith, the funeral services being held Friday at the Catholic Church, Rev. Fr. Studnicka conducting the services. The remains were interred in the Catholic Cemetery south of town.

A jury in circuit court at Sisseton found Frank Goodboy, not guilty. On Oct. 3rd, Goodboy and his son, Elick, Indians, informed the authorities at Sisseton that the elder Goodboy had shot and killed a white man, named James Whalen, a farm hand, and that the body had been left on the prairie.

Several person accompanied by the son went to the scene of the crime and found the body of Whalen cold and stiff on the ground. The remains were taken to the agency, where a coroner's inquest was held. Before the trial the son Elick, the only living witness of the crime, died. The plea of the defendant was that death was the result of an accident and the failure of the state to establish evidence to the contrary resulted in acquittal.

BAD STATE of AFFAIRS

County Physician Taplin of Roberts County has been investigating the death of Charles Johnson, a farmer of that county, who is believed to have been a victim of glanders.

Several other persons in the same locality are affected by a mysterious malady which it is feared may be glanders. The county physician discovered that some of Johnson's horses wer affected with glanders.

It is also reported that the animals were accustomed to drink from a well which furnished the people of the neighborhood with water, and the health authorities have disinfected the premises. Another resident of the same locality died of a disease resembling that which caused the death of Johnson, and some believe both men were victims of glanders.

Died, at the Hankinson Hospital, on Saturday morning, April 16th, John Spiers, about 31 years old. Deceased was known throughout the length and breadth of southern Richland County as "Tobe" and had been in the employ of Dr. Spottswood as driver and hostler for ten years. His death was caused by quick consumption, contracted through exposure on the long drives which were a part of his duties.

Deceased came to North Dakota with the Larkins family from Ottawa, Canada, and the only relatives he ever mentioned were a couple of sisters at that place. His father was a locomotive engineer but was killed several years ago. "Tobe" had the happy temperament peculiar to his race and one of his dominating traits was his loyalty to his employer.

The esteem in which he was held by the community was attested by the attendance at his funeral. The services were conducted in the Congregational Church on Sunday afternoon and the edifice was packed to overflowing. Rev. H. C. Compton conducted the service and the casket was loaded with floral offerings. The local fire department, of which deceased had been a member, turned out in a body and marched to the cemetery east of town where the remains were interred.

SAD SUICIDE at SISSETON.

Charles Elsen, assistant in the First National Bank at Sisseton, committed suicide Saturday night by shooting. The cause of his self destruction is a mystery as he was highly respected and his accounts were right to a cent.

Elson, who was only 19 years old, was the son of a wealthy saloon keeper. He was highly thought of by the bank officials and was well educated...a splendid bookkeeper and accomplished as a linguist, having command of seven different languages. He was of a retiring disposition and lived much by himself, having no intimates and declining to converse upon the most ordinary topics with any one. His eccentricity in this respect was well known to the community and was generally attributed to bashfulness.

Saturday night he finished his work at the bank as usual, and after supper mounted his wheel and rode off toward Browns Valley. This was the last seen of him alive, as his body was found the following morning by two girls in a lane about three miles from the city. He was in a kneeling posture and had a gaping wound back of the left ear, caused by the bank revolver which he still held in his hand.

Elson was sober and industrious and had $1400 in savings on deposit in the bank. A fortune of $20000 from the old country was due him as soon as he became of age. He had no bad habits, and his self imposed seclusion is thought to have preyed on his mind until he was mentally unbalanced.

The funeral was held Monday and was one of the largest ever held in Sisseton.

DEATH CLAIMS FOUR VICTIMS

Mrs. Madge Norton

DIED....At the Hankinson Hospital on Saturday night, June 18th, 1904, Mrs. Madge Norton, 38 years old, of tuberculosis of the bowels, after an illness of several months.

Deceased was a native of Canada, but most of her life was spent in the United States. In 1892 she was married to J. W. Norton and for several years they were residents of this place, moving to Regina, N. W. T., in 1899.

While here she was a teacher in the public schools for a couple of years. Besides her husband, three children survive her....one daughter of about 11 years, one daughter of three and a little son of eighteen months. Her mother, Mrs. R. A. Becker, also resides south of town, and there are two brothers...Leon and Harry Becker.

Deceased was a member of the Royal Neighbors Camp at this place and the services at the church were conducted under the auspices of that order, Rev. H. E. Walker delivering the sermon. The remains were shipped to the old home in Wisconsin for burial.

The deepest sympathy is felt by all for the bereaved ones.

E. E. TORREY

DIED:.....At the camp of the government surveyors southwest of town, on Sunday evening at 6 PM., E. E. Torrey, 61 years old, of heart failure.....

Deceased was the foreman of the government surveying party that is at present making its headquarters on the old Adams farm three miles southwest of town. He was a fine physical specimen and supposed to be in good health. About a week prior to his sudden taking off he was taken with a brief fainting spell, but was revived by stimulants. He resumed work and Sunday evening was engaged in writing a letter, but a storm arose and he assisted in tightening the guy ropes of the tent. At this time he complained of feeling unwell and a doctor was sent for post haste. One of his companions hurried to an adjoining tent to secure stimulants, but before he returned the stricken man was dead.

Deceased was single and had been engaged in the government Coast and Geodetic surveying service practically all his life. Nothing was known by his companions regarding his relatives, but by means of the envelope he had addressed to enclose the letter he was writing when the storm broke, they were located and communicated with.

At their request the remains were shipped to Beverly, MA., his boyhood home, for interment.

Papers found on the body indicated that deceased was a man of some means. He had for years been working for the government and at the time of his death was drawing a salary of $1600 a year. He was a man of good habits and highly thought of by the other members of the crew. His sudden taking off cast a cloud of gloom over the camp of which he had charge.

ERICK E. LIEN

DIED:....At his home twelve miles southwest of here in Lien Township, on Monday morning at 3 AM, of apoplexy, Erick E. Lien, aged 67 years.....

Deceased was born in Norway but came to this country in his early boyhood and was one of the first to settle in what is now Lien Twsp., when the reservation was opened in 1892. He took a prominent part in the developement of northern Roberts County, and Lein Township was christened in his honor. He was also County Commissioner for a number of years.

His wife died thirteen years ago while visiting at Blooming Prairie, MN., but a family of six children survive him...Ole, Emil, Louis, Albert, Bessie and Emma. Of these the first two named are married, and all but the youngest son and eldest daughter reside near Vernon.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 3 PM and was attended by a large number of old time friends and neighbors. The service was conducted by Rev. Peterson and interment took place in the Lien Twsp. Cemetery.

MURDER at SISSETON

L. M. Hanson of Veblen Beaten to Death While Intoxicated

L. M. Hanson, a well-to-do farmer whose home is near Veblen, died at Sisseton last Wednesday noon as a result of injuries received the night previous at the hands of William Fitzpatrick.

On Tuesday night Hanson, the murdered man, was found lying asleep on a bed in a room adjoining a candy store conducted by Mrs. Fitzpatrick. Two little girls who first saw him ran upon the street and told their brother that a drunken man was in the house asleep on the bed.

The brother, instead of notifying the police, hunted up a friend, Arthur Jourdain, who went with him to the house, accompanied by the two girls. On entering, young Fitzpatrick lit a light, and handing it to Jourdain, pulled off his coat and began to pound the sleeping man over the head. He then pulled Hanson into the alley and notified the police that he had "fixed a drunken Norwegian."

The police went to the spot and with the assistance of the two boys who committed the crime, took Hanson to the station and called a doctor. In the morning Hanson was taken to a hotel, where he died.

A coroner's inquest was held Saturday, resulting in a verdict of murder from a blow on the head from the hands of William Fitzpatrick. Fitzpatrick and Jourdain were lodged in the county jail at Sisseton to await trial. Citizens are very much exercised over the brutal affair, and but little sympathy is expressed for the prisoners. The murdered man recently fell heir to a large estate in the old country and had gone to Sisseton to sign the papers closing up his title to the same, and decided to celebrate the event with the drunk that resulted in his death. He owned a good farm and country store, and before locating there lived at Milnor, Sargent County, where a brother, Ole Hanson, is one of the leading business men. Deceased leaves a wife and several children.

The badly decomposed body of a man was found in a wheat field about two miles this side of Fairmount last Sunday. The body had evidently lain there for six weeks or more, and was in such condition that identification was impossible.

The man had been roughly dressed and the only articles that might lead to his identification were a watch and pocket knife. There was also a small sum of money in the pocket. He was evidently about 25 or 30 years old and of medium weight and height. Coroner Kaufman was summoned from Wahpeton but the identity of the deceased, or the cause of death, could not be determined. Whether it was a case of suicide, accidental death or foul play will probably never be known. The remains were buried in the Fairmount Cemetery Tuesday.

OBITUARY

DIED:.....Simpkins, Mrs. Mary Ann, at Bakersfield, CA., on October 17th, 1904, of quick consumption, at the age of 38 years, two months and 29 days.

Deceased was born in Canada on July 18th, 1866, being the oldest daughter of Mr. Edward Coppin, and came to Richland County with the family in the spring of 1882, settling on the farm two miles west of Hankinson which still bears the name. Here she resided with her parents until May 15th, 1889, when she was united in marriage to Leonard Simpkins of Wahpeton. The latter died on Dec. 10th of the same year, but his widow resided in Wahpeton for several years, later coming to the home of her brothers, west of town. In June of 1902, she went to California where she kept house for her brother, Thos. Coppin, at Bakersfield, up to the time of her death.

Her illness dated from last spring, being the direct result of a severe cold which attacked her lungs, after which time she failed steadily.

She is survived by her father who now resides in England, two sisters and six brothers, viz: Mrs. A. H. Brown of Hankinson, Mrs. Baker of Wahpeton, John, George, Fred, Thomas, Philip and William Coppin, all of whom were present at the funeral except Thomas at whose home in California her death occurred.

The remains arrived here Tuesday and the funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 PM, services being conducted at the Cong'l Church by Rev. H. E. Walker. A large number of friends of the family attended the services and followed the remains to their final resting place in the family cemetery in the picturesque hills to the west of town, where she was laid to rest beside her mother and sister, Mrs. W. H. Baker.

Deceased was a devout Christian woman and a member of the Baptist Church. Her acts of kindness and beautiful character endeared her to all who knew her, and the world is better for her having lived.

The members of the family desire to express, through the NEWS their thanks to the friends who were present at the funeral and assisted them in so many ways during the dark hours of their affliction.

WAS HE MURDERER'S VICTIM?

Body Found Near Fairmount May Have Been Missing South Dakotan.

HURON, SD., Dec. 6th.....E. M. Dunn, Chief of Police at Miller, was in the city on his way to Brandon, IA. to confer with the mother and other relatives of Jacob Johnson, missing from his farm, near Wessington, since the latter part of last June, and supposed to have been murdered.

Mr. Dunn returned from Fairmount and Wahpeton, in North Dakota, a few days since, where he went to view the remains of a man found dead in a wheat field near the first named town some time since. His visit resulted in getting possession of a silver watch and a portion of the dead man's vest. The watch has been identified as that of Johnson's but the clothing having been exposed to the weather so long is faded and is not positively identified as that worn by the missing man.

A peculiar proceeding was that the remains, as soon as found, were ordered by the coroner to be buried, no examination as to wounds or cause of death was held and seemingly little effort made to ascertain the identity of the dead man. The body was without hat, but in the pockets of his clothing was found about $14 in cash.

A farmhand discovered the body, and later came to Wessington to work and happened to tell of the find, when the authorities at once began investigating, the result of which now bids fair to lead to the discovery of the perpetrators of one of the foulest crimes known to this part of South Dakota.

As to whether or not Johnson was killed at his home near Wessington and the body taken to where it was found, or whether he was induced to go there with his slayer is a problem that must yet be solved.

It is known that Johnson had a team the day he was last seen at his home, but as to the whereabouts of either of the horses or wagon, or the old reddish-yellow trunk of Norwegian make that is also missing, though marked "Paul Jakobson" in Norwegian, no one has yet been able to state. A reward of $200 is offered for the team and wagon.

It is believed that the visit of Dunn to the relatives of Johnson at Brandon, will be helpful to those now seeking to unravel the dense mystery and lead to the punishment of those responsible for the crime.

LATER DEVELOPMENTS

MILLER, SD., Dec. 7th....City Marshall Ed. Dunn has just returned from Brandon, IA., where the mother and brother of murdered Jacob Johnson were unable to identify the watch taken from the dead man found near Fairmount, ND., as that of the missing Jacob's. Two of his former neighbors at Mount Vernon, however, identified the watch as his. Two men in Miller say the watch looks just like the one he showed them.

A Wessington man identified the piece of the North Dakota man's vest as the the same as worn by the missing Jacob. There is a strong probability that it was his body found there. It lay in the wheat field 100 yards from the road, hatless. Mr. Dunn is positive about it.

The murderers must have made off into Minnesota and probably into Canada with the team and personal property, and finding the work undetected came back three months later and killed G. M. Todd. The alleged discovery of the Todd horses in Minnesota indicates that the same direction was taken by his murderers, Canada or the great pineries seeming to be the shelter sought.

FARMER HAS FATAL FALL

Joe Bernard is Thrown from Wagon Seat and Breaks His Neck.

While returning home from Hankinson with a load of coal last Friday night, Joe Bernard, a farmer living eleven miles northeast, fell from his wagon seat and broke his neck.

Bernard was in town nearly all day Thursday and did not leave for home until about 9 PM that evening. He had on a double box with a seat to which there were no sides or back. He had loaded a half a ton of coal at John R. Jones' yard before leaving and started home alone. The team reached home about midnight, but as Mr. Bernard was missing his wife became alarmed and walked to Wm. Koppelman's place near by and asked him to start out in search of her husband. At daylight Kippelman and Theo. Bohn followed the trail back from the house and about six AM came upon the lifeless body of Bernard near the approach to the Popp bridge across the Wild Rice River six miles north of here. The spring to the seat evidently broke while going down the bank to the bridge, throwing Bernard to his death. As his neck was broken death was probably instantaneous.

The body was taken to a neighbor's and Coroner Kauffman notified at Wahpeton. On his arrival an inquest was held, the verdict being that deceased came to his death by falling from his wagon seat as above described.

Deceased was a man of about thirty-two years of age and leaves a wife and six small children. He carried no life insurance and leaves little property, having rented and worked a part of the old Divet farm last season. He has several brothers living in the vicinity.

The funeral was held Monday from the St. Joe Church east of Great Bend, interment being made in the cemetery near by.

DEATH of A PIONEER

George Worner, Sr., one of the first settlers in the Great Bend country, died Monday afternoon at his home in that village, at the age of 76 years. He had been troubled with an asthmatic affliction for years, and he recently contracted a severe cold which hastened the end. His wife and seven surviving children were at the bedside.

Deceased was born in Hessen-Darmsbach, Germany, on Feb. 28th, 1828, and was twice married. He was the father of ten children, two of whom died 21 years ago this week during the diphtheria scourge that swept the Great Bend Country at that time. Another son died about twelve years ago. The remaining seven are all married except one and reside in this vicinity....George, John, Wm., Chas, and Herman Worner, all of whom are in business at Great Bend, Fred Worner of this place, and Mrs. Chas. Mittag.

Deceased came to the United States 45 years ago and first settled in Wisconsin. Thirty one years ago he moved with his family to Dakota and settled near Great Bend, being one of the original seventeen families in the Great Bend colony. Here he has since resided, rearing a family that has played a leading part in the development of the country.

Deceased was a devout member of the German Evangelical Church and the funeral will be held from the church of that faith in Great Bend at 2 PM this afternoon, Rev. C. A. Bremer to conduct the services.

FATAL ACCIDENT

On Friday last, Hortatio Farum and his sister started for Sisseton from their home at Effington taking with them a shot gun. The gun lay in the wagon near them resting on the bed of the wagon. When about two miles from home, from some cause, probably from the jar of the wagon, the gun was discharged, mangling Mr. Farum's arm and shoulder in a terrible manner. He was hurriedly taken home by his sister and medical aid was hastily summoned. It was found necessary to amputate his arm as the only way of saving his life but the severe loss of blood had weakened him so he died the following evening.

Mr. Farnum was born in Apleton City, MO., on May 24th, 1873. He moved to Roberts County with his father, Hortatio Farnum in 1892 and lived with him until his father died some six months ago. He was 31 years, 7 months and 6 days old at the time of his death. He is survived by one sister and two brothers who reside in Iowa.

The funeral was held in the Woodman Hall on Monday, Rev. Millet officiating and the remains interred at Effington Cemetery. Mr. Farnum was one of the early settlers having taken up a homestead in Hart Township at the opening of the reservation where he has continually resided, the town of Effington being laid out on his farm.

Mrs. Celestia A. Barnes, mother of L. J. Barnes and Mrs. M. E. Cox, died at the home of the latter Saturday morning at 3:15 of Bright's disease. Deceased had been a sufferer from the disease for several years, but was in fair health up to less than two days of her death.

Deceased was born in New York state 66 years ago but shortly after her marriage came west, settling at Preston, MN., where her husband died some fifteen years ago. Since that time she has spent much of her time with her children, having visited here off and on for the past three years. She arrived here on her last visit in October and remained with her children to the time of her death.

She is survived by three children....L. J. Barnes and Mrs. M. E. Cox of this place, and a married daughter at Alden, IA. Owing to illness in the family the latter was unable to attend the funeral, which was held from the Cox home on Tuesday morning, Rev. W. A. Whitcomb conducting the services. Interment was made in the cemetery east of town.

During her visits here deceased formed quite a circle of friends, all of whom extend sympathy to the bereaved ones in their affliction.

DEATH of H. J. SPRAGUE

Old residents will be shocked to learn of the accidental death of H. J. Sprague, which occurred at Marysville, WA., on Feb. 21st. The following account of the accident is taken from the Marysville Globe.

An unusually sad accident occurred Wednesday afternoon about 4 PM in the Smith mill which resulted in the death of the victim three hours later. The belt by which the band saw is operated and which was not in use at the time was becoming entangled with the belt connecting with the knee bolting machine. Mr. H. J. Sprague, whose duty it was to operate the band saw and look after the belt, stepped over and took hold of the belt. As he did so his left arm was caught, and his body carried with the shaft, making several revolutions.

A plank with which the legs came in contact was split. The left arm was torn from the body, both legs broken and the ribs on the left side crushed in. The clothing was torn from his body by the belt. Dr. C. E. Munn was immediately called and the injured man carried to his home, where he died at 7 PM that evening.

Mr. Sprague was conscious immediately after the accident happened and asked the men how it happened. He retained consciousness until within ten minutes of his death, conversing with his family and expressing regret over the accident for the sake of the family.

An examination of the part of the mill where the accident happened fails to show any negligence upon the part of the owners. The place where the accident occurred is an exceedingly dangerous one and extreme care is necessary.

The mill was stopped immediately remaining shut down until after the funeral.

Henry J. Sprague was born in Illinois on June 20th, 1856, being, at the time of his death, 49 years old. He leaves a mother, a sister and two brothers living in Shawano, WI. The immediate family consists of the widow and five children, three girls and two boys.

The funeral took place from the Congregational Church, the pastor officiating, assisted by Rev. W. C. King of the Baptist Church. The Masonic order of which the deceased was a member, had charge of the funeral.

Deceased was at one time a leading business man of Hankinson, the hardware business of Upham & Sprague having been purchased by M. A. Wipperman about ten years ago. He also serves as deputy sheriff under E. M. Jones during the latter's first term.

THE BODY FOUND NEAR FAIRMOUNT

A Miller, SD., special says:....There not being sufficient evidence to show that the man found dead last fall near Wahpeton, ND., was Jacob Johnson, murdered northeast of here, a theory is advanced that the body was that of Elmer Young, wanted on a warrant charging him with the murder of George Todd, and who is supposed to have killed Johnson. It is believed that Smith and his pal traveled north after burying their victim on or near his farm, and that in a quarrel Elmer was killed and left in the wheat field where he fell, by the now double murderer, who proceeded with the Johnson horses and property.

SUICIDE by SHOOTING

John Hagen Ended His Life with a Rifle Ball Early This Morning.

WAS OWNER OF THE EVERETT GREEN FARM

No Motive Known for the Rash Act....Inquest to be Held This Afternoon

John Hagen committed suicide by shooting himself through the head at about daybreak this morning. The tragedy occurred on the old Everett Green farm three and a half miles southeast of town. The weapon used was a 32 calibre Marlin rifle, the ball entering just in front of the right ear and coming out at a point above the left ear. Death ensued about two hours later.

Mrs. Hagen arose about daybreak, dressed and went out to the barn. On returning a few moments later she heard the report of a rifle, and entering the bedroom, where she had left her husband a short time before, found him lying in a pool of blood on the floor with a gaping wound in the head and the smoking rifle beside him. He was unconscious but still alive, and the eldest son was dispatched for medical aid. Dr. Young hurried to the scene but Hagen was beyond human aid and passed away half an hour later.

Coroner Kitely has been notified and is expected up from Fairmount today to hold an inquest. There seems to be an absolute lack of motive and the deed must have been the result of temporary insanity.

Hagen purchased the Green place, which is north of Lightning's Nest, just a year ago and came up from South Dakota with his family last September. He was a thrifty German and in easy circumstances financially. He had in a large crop acreage and the grain on the place is looking fine. He had an excellent standing with the local business concerns and the tragedy has created a sensation. He leaves a wife and half a dozen children and his domestic relations have always been pleasant so far as known.

It is reported that Hagen made an attempt at self destruction in South Dakota by hanging several years ago. Deceased was a man somewhat under fifty years of age.

LATER....The NEWS man accompanied Coroner Kitely to the Hagen home this afternoon, and the facts are substantially as above stated. Hagen feared he had appendicitis and rather than undergo an operation decided to commit suicide. The deed was premeditated as the children saw him taking shells for the gun from a drawer last night. The Coroner decided an inquest was unnecessary.

Hagen had previously made three attempts at hanging, the last about three years ago.

SAD ATTEMPT at SUICIDE

Mrs. James Burrows Administered Laudanum to Herself and Children
4 Year Old Boy Dies from Effects

Unfortunate Mother is Committed to Insane Hospital at Jamestown

Mrs. James Burrows, in a fit of insanity of the melancholy kind, attempted to make away with her own life and that of three of her children by administering laudanum Monday morning. The youngest child, Kenneth, aged four years, died from the effects of the poison, but the lives of the mother and other children were saved.

From what has developed since, it was evidently the intention of the mother to destroy herself and the three youngest children. In this she was unknowingly thwarted by Mr. Burrows who took two of the children with him on a drive into the country Monday afternoon. As early as 8 AM the mother gave Willie, the oldest, a dose of cough medicine, but he detected the taste of laudnaum and spat it out, as did Jimmie, the second at about the same time. A little later a dose was given to Kenneth, the youngest boy, who was four years old last January. According to the mother's statement the child lapsed into a deep sleep about 11 AM from which he never awoke. The hour at which Mrs. Burrows took the potion is not known. When Jimmie arrived home at supper time he found the mother and little son lying unconscious on the bed. Going to the barn he informed the father who had just returned. Dr. Young was summoned but the child was beyond human aid and the spark of life went out shortly after the doctor's arrival. The mother was revived but a delay of twenty minutes more would have probably resulted in her death.

She was carefully guarded to prevent any further attempt at self destruction, and the county authorities were notified. Coroner Kitley arrived from Fairmount Tuesday noon and an inquest was held over the body of the dead child, the jurors being J. W. Hargrave, Herman Brandt and J. V. Greene. After viewing the remains and examining as witnesses, Dr. Young, James Burrows, the father, Willie Burrows, M. A. Wipperman and Mrs. Geo. Carr, the jury found that the child Kenneth came to his death from Laudanum administered willfully by the mother.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning, services being conducted in the Catholic Church by Rev. Jos. F. Studnicka, and was attended by the parents and children, a sister of Mrs. Burrows, who arrived from Sargent County on being notified of the tragedy, and a large number of friends. The remains were laid to rest in the Catholic Cemetery.

The unfortunate mother has been in a melancholy frame of mind for some time, and the reason she gives for her rash act is that she did not want her children to grow to manhood under the evil influences thrown around them here. This had preyed on her mind for months, and on two or three previous occasions she had attempted to poison some of the children by administering laudanum in coffee and cough medicine.

Mrs. Burrows was taken to Wahpeton in custody of Sheriff Robbins yesterday. An examination by the board of insanity resulted in her commitment to the asylum, and she was taken to Jamestown last night, accompanied by the sheriff and her husband.

The deepest sympathy is felt throughout the community for the husband and four remaining sons in their great affliction.

SOO TRAIN KILLS R. R. LABORER

Jack Gleason, a laborer on the Soo's track laying gang, was instantly killed by Soo passenger train 107 north bound last evening, on a curve this side of Mantador.

Details are lacking but from what the NEWS can learn the man was intoxicated and had fallen asleep on the track. The train was late here and may have been running ahead of schedule time. Turning the curve, the prostrate man was seen too late to stop the train.

The body was taken to Wyndmere where a coroner's inquest is being held today. Little is known of the dead man as so far as can be learned he had no friends or relatives.

MISS RUTH KYLE

The older inhabitants of Hankinson will, doubtless, call to remembrance the young lady, bearing the above name; but they will bring her back to their memory not as a young lady, though rather as a sweet and meek little girl, playing in their streets, and greeting any one that chanced to meet her with a kind word and pleasant smile. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kyle, who resided for many years in the town of Hankinson. About 10 years ago the family moved to Minneapolis. In the said city, Ruth was educated and trained for the position which she held efficiently and honorably, until she was truck down by a disease, or rather a complication of diseases, which in course of time terminated fatally. She became indisposed on March 5th; and her indisposition grew and increased in intensity and pain, until she was relieved by the Angel of Death on May 22nd. She bore her affliction patiently and was hopeful of recovery almost to the hour of her dissolution. Her funeral took place the following Thursday afternoon; and she was laid to rest in one of the loveliest cemeteries of which Minneapolis may rightly boast, while at the same time the exterior of her "Sleeping Chamber" was copiously baptized with the heart's tears of multitudes of friends. The day was beautiful, the greensward was at its best, the trees wore their best robes, the flowers were in full bloom, and the birds carolled enchantingly, reminding one of a better day in the world of eternal summer.

The funeral services were conducted at Bethany Congregational Church, Minneapolis, by Rev. M. B. Morris, of Mpls., and Rev. D. T. Jenkins, Bethany Church, St. Paul (formerly of Hankinson). Two beautiful solos were sung by Mrs. Pratt, Miss Ruth's music teacher. The latter solo entitled, "I Shall See Him" was Miss Ruth's favorite, and she had, in years past, often sung it at Bethany Church, of which she was a member. The funeral was very large; and the profusion of flowers framed in diverse geometrical figures indicated plainly that the deceased once occupied a high and warm place in the affections of a large circle of friends. May her soul rest in peace.

BOY VICTIM of SHOTGUN

Otto Boldt, a 14 year old boy, was seriously injured about noon Tuesday by the accidental discharge of a shotgun on the Backhaus farm one mile south of town. The large muscles of his right arm were torn away and a ragged wound made in the armpit.

With his father, Herman Boldt, the young man had driven with a water tank to the Backhaus farm, taking with him a double barreled shotgun. He attempted to stick the gun through the hole in the top of the tank to save carrying it, when the hammer caught on the side of the opening and the weapon was discharged with the above result. The injured boy was brought to town at once and was very weak from loss of blood by the time the hospital was reached, some of the large blood vessels having been severed. Drs. Spottswood and Young dressed the wounds and it is thought the arm will be saved if blood poisoning can be prevented. He is doing well at this writing.

This should prove a lesson in the matter of allowing children to use firearms and the only wonder is that more accidents have not occurred in the past when the laxity of parents is considered.

LATER....Symptoms of blood poisoning developed yesterday afternoon and the arm was amputated this morning at the shoulder socket. The outcome of the operation can only be conjectured at best, but the patient's condition is causing his friends grave anxiety.

The boy was unable to withstand the shock of the operation and died at 3 PM this afternoon.

RED SKIN KILLS TWO WHITE MEN

SISSETON, SD., Aug. 11th....Sisseton was shocked and horrified last night by the report of the murder in cold blood of two citizens by an Indian. Deputy Sheriff M.E. Colby and Edward Peterson had gone to the house of an Indian named Zach Flute, who lives about two miles from the village of Peever, to get possession of a team of mortgaged horses.

An altercation took place, and the Indian, according to his own story, went into the house for a shotgun and killed Colby, shooting him at such short range that his lungs were nearly blown away. Peterson started to run through a wheat field, and the Indian reloaded the gun, chased him about a quarter of a mile and shot him three times.

Flute then went to Peever and gave himself up. The sheriff was sent for and now has him in custody.

As soon as the news became generally known crowds of excited men gathered on street corners. Talk of lynching was freely indulged in. The citizens are terribly wrought up and it is doubtful if the sheriff will be able to hold his prisoner.

The Indians have been drinking heavily of late and making ugly threats. It is feared that a lynching would bring about an outbreak.

The bodies of Colby and Peterson are on the way here. The Indian is about 50, speaks English and is fairly intelligent. It is said that he was at one time a preacher at Flaudreau and Granite Falls.

Peterson resided near Wilmot and had recently been employed as a clerk in a clothing store at Sisseton, and had been collecting from the Indians since the recent Indian payment.

Colby was married and had been living near Sisseton for two years. He came from Iowa. Flute has been given a hearing in justice court and bound over to the October term of circuit court.

Anna Christina Pederson, wife of Nels Pederson, died at her home eleven miles south of town Tuesday morning at 11 AM after an illness of only a few days. She was taken ill with typhoid pneumonia last Thursday but her condition was not considered dangerous right up to the hour of her death. She retained consciousness to the last moment and passed peacefully away as though falling into a deep sleep.

Deceased was a native of Denmark, her maiden name being Olson, and had she lived till the 2nd of Oct. would have been 59 years old. In 1871 she was married to Nels Pederson and in 1882 they came to America, settling first near Fergus Falls, MN. In 1890 they moved to Richland County and in 1897 located on the farm 2½ miles south of the state line which they have since occupied. Besides the husband, five children are left to mourn the loss of a loving mother. They are: Hans, who resides in California; Peter, of Minneapolis; Mrs. Chas. VanMill, a bride of a few weeks; Jens C., and Elizabeth, both of whom live at home. With the exception of the first named all are expected to attend the funeral, which will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 PM from the home.

Rev. Isaac of White Rock will conduct the services, and interment will be made in the cemetery on the Walter Biggs farm.

Deceased was of a kind and motherly disposition and her death is mourned by a large circle of friends who extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

A brutal murder is reported from near Linton in Emmons County, on the Soo's Bismarck branch. The killing was done by a Russian named Kunz, and the victim, W. Z. Steele, was deliberately shot to death with a rifle. Some days ago the Russian went to the Boetcher ranch and complained that Steele had damaged the former's grain by driving along the edge of the field with a header. Steele offered to pay the damaged but Kunz would not accept pay.

Monday he met Steele and without any warning shot the latter with a rifle, the ball entering the face and causing instant death. Kunz and his wife came to town and he was immediately arrested. Steele was recently married, his wife only arriving there last Saturday. It is thought that Kunz came to town to get out of the country before the officers could be notified as he was much surprised that he should be arrested.

DEATH of A PIONEER

Mrs. Wilhelmina Hoefs died at her home on the north side of town Tuesday evening at 9 PM after a lingering illness. Deceased had she lived till the 15th of next Dec. would have been 76 years old and for the past 31 years has been a resident of this part of Richland County.

Deceased was born in Lukanhogan, Germany, her maiden name being Luepke, and shortly after her marriage emigrated to the US, settling in Wisconsin in 1872. Two years later the family moved to this county, being one of the first white families in what is now the township of Brandenburg. Shortly after the death of her husband on New Years's Day, 1899, the widow moved to Hankinson where she has since resided. Over a year ago she was stricken with consumption and has been confined to her bed for nearly thirteen months. She bore her suffering patiently and made all preparations for the end.

Deceased was the mother of seven children, four of whom survive her...August Hoefs, Mrs. Albert Bohn, Ferdinand Hoefs and Mrs. August Bladow. All reside in this vicinity. There are also 30 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be held tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at one o'clock from the German Evangelical Church, following a short service at the home. The pallbearers will be Edw. Kriesel, Chas. Kirsch, John Polfuss, Theo. Heling, August Eggart and Wm. Brummund. Rev. Kunz will conduct the service and interment will be made in the cemetery south of town.

DR. SHANLEY DIES of YELLOW FEVER

New Orleans, Oct. 10th....A martyr in the fight against yellow fever, Dr. C. M. Shanley, formerly of North Dakota, died yesterday at his plantation home on Bayou Barataria as the result of a relapse from yellow fever, his illness extending over the past two weeks.

Dr. Shanley came here with his family, about three years ago, from the northwest. When the fever appeared in New Orleans, he refused to leave and when it developed in Bayou Barataria, he volunteered his services to assist in stamping it out.

He placed his steam launch at the disposal of the authorities and for days and nights visited and ministered to the sick. Several weeks ago he was himself stricken and was brought to the city and taken to the emergency hospital.

He remained there until he believed himself cured and immediately returned to the bayou to resume his work. Exposure and the fact that he had ventured out too soon resulted in a fresh attack of illness and physicians and two trained nurses have been in attendance on him. Death came yesterday.

Dr. Shanley was a thirty second degree Mason and his body is now on its way to the city and will be buried today from the Masonic Temple with high Masonic honors.

His death is greatly deplored, not only in Jefferson parish, among whose people he labored, but throughout the city. The continued successful progress of the government authorities in their effort to stamp out the yellow fever in New Orleans was again manifested yesterday in the low number of new cases and deaths.

DEATH OF MRS. NESSON

The community was shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Wilbur Nesson on Monday evening. Complications following childbirth caused her untimely end. A baby girl was born Monday afternoon and death came a few hours later.

A sad feature of the case is the failure, thus far, to locate Mr. Nesson who has been working in the vicinity of Portal but who left for home via team over a week ago. Efforts to communicate with him have so far been unavailing though messages have been left for him at several of the towns where it is supposed he will make stops. Funeral arrangements remain unsettled pending the arrival of the husband.

Deceased is a daughter of Mrs. Mary Parker of this place, and a sister, Mrs. N. S. Lowell, is also here from Sioux Falls, SD. She was married to Mr. Nesson thirteen years ago and four children survive her, Floyd and Glen, boys, Jessie and the infant, girls. Mrs. Sophia Witt died at 2 AM this morning at the home of her son Carl Witt in Belford Township after an illness of two weeks. Deceased, had she lived until Dec. 28th, would have attained the age of ninety years.

She was born in Germany and came to America with her husband and three children thirty years ago. After a residence of two and a half years in New York state the family moved to Ohio, and three years later came to North Dakota. The husband died eighteen years ago last August at the home of Carl Witt with whom the parents resided from the time of his marriage.

Deceased is survived by three children....Carl Witt and Louis Witt of Belford Twsp., and Fred Witt of Claremont, MN. There are 21 grandchildren and the same number of great-grandchildren. Deceased was in excellent health until about two weeks ago when she contracted a cold and gradually grew weaker but retained her full faculties until she passed into the last long sleep. She was among the earliest settlers in Belford Township and universally esteemed.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 PM from St. John's Church.

Wahpeton has a mysterious disappearance case that has created quite a sensation. Rev. T. M. Edmands, Pastor of the Congregational Church, left home at 10 AM last Friday morning for a walk along the river and has not been seen since. His hat was found during the afternoon near a hole in the ice, and the belief is general that the unfortunate man was drowned either by accident or while mentally deranged. The river has been thoroughly dragged but so far without result. He had been in poor health for several months and had worried a great deal over a libel suit pending against him and brought by Rev. W. Edwards. of Abercrombie. Mrs. Wm. Edmands and an only daughter are distracted with grief over the sad affair.

SUDDEN DEATH of MRS. M. KREBSBACH

The community was shocked almost beyond belief this morning to learn that Mrs. M. Krebsbach had died at 11 PM last night after an illness of less than twenty four hours. Few knew of her illness, and the news of her sudden end cast a gloom over the entire town.

Blood poisoning was the immediate cause of her death. For a couple of days she had complained of feeling unwell but not until 2 AM yesterday morning was her condition considered serious. Dr. Spottswood was then called and he worked over her from that time until death came. She passed peacefully away into the last long sleep at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Ella Krebsbach was born at Mitchell, SD., 27 years ago, where her mother, Mrs. Walstrum, still resides. She was married to Mike Krebsbach seven years ago and is survived by the husband and two children...Reuben 5 years old and Florence 2 years old. The family came here from Esmond, ND., just a year ago and the deceased has made many warm friends. She was devoted to her children, and was an ideal wife and mother.

The heartfelt sympathy of all goes out to the husband and little ones in their great bereavement.

The funeral will be held from the home on Sunday afternoon, and interment will be made here.

The report of the finding of the body of Rev. T. M. Edmands, the Wahpeton preacher who disappeared three weeks ago, was a false one. The report first appeared in Minneapolis papers under a Wahpeton date line, and was printed in last week's NEWS. Every effort was made to recover the body from the river and professional divers worked a couple of days last week, but were obliged to give up the search. The muddy water made it almost impossible for the divers to accomplish anything, though $600 expense was incurred in the effort. The wife and daughter of the missing man have gone east for the remainder of the winter, but will return when the ice goes out in the spring and resume the search.

There are various theories as to the disappearance of the unfortunate man, some being of the opinion that he became demented and wandered away instead of being drowned. If the body is in the river it will undoubtedly be found in the spring. The fact that he carried some $10,000 of life insurance adds to the importance of recovering the body, as the insurance companies will of course refuse to make settlement under present conditions. There is a reward of $100 awaiting anyman, dead or alive.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT NEAR WINDOM

Ole Jacobson, a farm hand near Windom, a small town 25 miles southwest of here, attempted to commit suicide last Friday by shooting himself. Prior to the shooting he set fire to the barn of D. A. Slentz, the building being entirely consumed together with six horses and a quantity of grain.

Jacobson had been working for Slentz but had left his employ and gone to work for Jas. Malley. He went to the Slentz house Thursday evening and asked Miss Lena Ginassen, a domestic employed in the family, to go riding with him. She had declined to receive attentions from Jacobson before this, and on her refusal to go for a ride he attempted to choke her, saying he would kill her. The girl's screams brought Slentz to the scene and he ordered Jacobson from the house. The latter then pulled a revolver on Slentz and threatened him. He went away, however, and a little later, about 11 PM, Slentz was awakened and found his barn on fire. As he went to the door he heard three shots from a small house across the road and upon investigation Jacobson was found in the building with two bullet holes from a 22 calibre revolver in his abdomen. He had also attempted to cut his throat with a jackknife.

Jacobson was taken to the Slentz home and at last reports was in a precarious condition with chances against recovery. The barn was gutted by the flames, as stated above.

The county authorities have been investigating and if Jacobson recovers he will doubtless either be prosecuted for arson or committed to the insane asylum.

Jacobson is dead but before he expired made a statement giving his full intentions at the time of the crime. According to his own statement Jacobson set the barn on fire and then concealed himself in a shed near the path leading from the house, where he waited for Slentz, revolver in hand, with the intentions of shooting him when the fire would cause him to make his appearance. After shooting Slentz he intended to go into the house and kill his sweetheart, who had jilted him, and then murder the entire Slentz family.

The fire failed to arouse Slentz from his slumbers and the agonizing screams of the burning horses and cattle in the barn prompted the would be murderer to put an end to his miserable existence. He fired two shots into his abdomen and then attempted to cut his throat with a jackknife. Slentz then appeared on the scene, having been aroused by the shots fired, and going into the shed, found Jacobson writhing on the floor and attempting to beat out his brains with a piece of coal.

The barn burned to the ground with all its contents, including 300 bushels of corn, a large quantity of hay, eleven head of cattle and six horses. The loss is estimated at $2,500 with no insurance. The girl is prostrated over the affair. She says she was engaged to Jacobson, but was compelled to give him up on account of his bad habits. She is an intelligent and prepossessing young woman.

RETRIBUTION CAME QUICKLY

Ashley, ND., Jan. 29th....The frozen body of Hezekiah Fulkerson, who on Jan. 22nd, shot and killed Dr. I. L. Drake, of Minneapolis, the traveling dentist, in the office of the Soo Hotel of this city, was yesterday found by a German farmer named Fraee Bauer, near Venturia, nine miles southwest of this place.

Bauer telephoned the fact that a dead man was lying in the snow near his place, to the authorities, and Sheriff Emanuel Hildebrand, accompanied by A. Cling, Coroner, C. S. Johnstone and two other citizens, at once drove to the place and found the dead man was Fulkerson, for whom a fruitless search had been made since the murder.

The place where the man was found was off the traveled road, and it was only by accident that Bauer found him.

The body was taken to the court house at Ashley and placed in charge of guards. The inquest will be held this morning.

It appears that the fleeing murderer lost his way and as the night of the murder was a bitterly cold one, he was overcome by the cold of exhaustion incident to his flight.

He appears to have cut off the sleeve of his coat to bind about his right foot to prevent or guard against freezing.

The revolver with which he did the shooting was found in a pocket. From all appearances he died making a last futile effort against the cold.

From letters found on his person and at the place where he lodged here it develops that he had a brother, W. H. Fulkerson, at Cleopatra, McLean County, KY., another brother, Marshal Fulkerson, of Church, Grayson County, KY., besides a sister and other relatives in that locality.

Dr. Drake was murdered in his office in this city on Tuesday last. The murder was the most cold blooded crime ever committed in this vicinity.

Fulkerson made a claim that the doctor owed him the sum of 45 cents for some work that he (Fulkerson) had done for him some time before. Dr. Drake denied owing the money and said he would not pay it under any circumstances. This reply made Fulkerson angry and he made threats at the time. He went out of the office after the quarrel, claiming he would have revenge.

But a short time after he returned with a revolver, under cover, and entering the Doctor's room, he went directly to the place where the doctor was standing and fired two shots into his body.

One shot took effect in the stomach and the other in the breast. The doctor dropped to the floor and died ten minutes later.

The murderer, after making sure that his victim could not follow him, left the office and nothing had been heard or seen of him from that day until his body was found in the field yesterday.

It is presumed that he secured a horse and immediately left for the country. The murdered man was quite popular and leaves a wife and one child.

Fulkerson was single and was a very tall man, being over six feet in height. He came to this city last summer and has been doing odd jobs.

When the murder was committed it caused a great stir among the townspeople and those on the outskirts, and it was only a short time before a posse was formed which searched diligently but were unable to find the murderer.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Monday evening of last week Henry Hamann, living about four miles east of White Rock, SD., in Minnesota, met with an accident from which he died Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock.

Monday Mr. Hamann was at White Rock in a buggy with a spirited team. It was about dark when he left for home, and just east of town at a cross prairie road which he generally took for home, was a ditch to cross. It is surmised when the team crossed the ditch Mr. Hamann was thrown forward over the dashboard, his feet were caught under the seat and his body fell head downward between the whiffle trees and the axle, in which condition the unfortunate man was dragged to his home frozen and mangled almost beyond recognition. The horses started on the run when they struck the ditch, and the deceased was dragged head downward, bumping the hard frozen ground until the top of his head was worn away, blotches of blood, bunches of hair and flesh being found on the ground over the road which the horses took in their mad flight.

Undoubtedly Mr. Hamann never suffered any as it is supposed that he was knocked senseless when he struck the ground and never regained consciousness again before he died. The deceased leaves a wife and nine children to mourn his untimely death.

FOUL MURDER at GENESEO

The little village of Geneseo, 18 miles west of here, was shocked on Thursday morning by the news that L. M. Vanbuskirk had been shot and killed in cold blood by his neighbor, J. B. Hazlett, who went immediately to Forman and gave himself up to the authorities, and was placed behind the bars. He was accompanied to the county seat by Fred Foaman, in whose place the shooting occurred, and who was an eye witness to the terrible crime. Foaman was also taken into custody, pending investigation.

The story of the murder as told by the eye witness, brought out in the coroner's inquest, is substantially as follows:

Fred Foaman, who conducts a butcher shop in Geneseo, opened his shop at the usual hour Thursday morning, and shortly afterwards L. M. Vanbuskirk, the murdered man, came in, and the two men were sitting by the stove talking, when Hazlett entered by a rear door (it appears that the front door was not used in cold weather) carrying a shotgun, which he left in the back room. He came into the front room and on seeing Vanbuskirk, he stepped back into the rear room and returned with the gun. He then told Vanbuskirk to get out.

The latter asked Foaman if he (Foaman) did not rent the shop, and made no move to comply with Hazlett's demand. Foaman advised Vanbuskirk to leave as he feared trouble. Vanbuskirk then got up, buttoned up his coat, tied a scarf around his neck, put on a heavy pair of mittens, and started to leave. He was obliged to pass Hazlett to get out and as attempted to pass, the latter pushed him back with the muzzle of the gun. Words then followed when Vanbuskirk again started to leave, saying he would go to Forman and get a warrant for Hazlett's arrest. When within about a foot and a half from Hazlett, the latter raised the shotgun and emptied the contents in Vanbuskirk's left side piercing the latter's heart. The charge cut a rib in two in entering, striking a rib in back and lodged in the muscles of the back.

Hazlett and Foaman then left the shop, but did not lock the door as reported. They went to Hazlett's home, where the latter told his wife that Vanbuskirk had been hurt and she had better have some one to to the butcher shop and have him taken care of.

Hazlett and Foaman then went to Forman, where they told the story that Vanbuskirk had shot himself. They were at once placed under arrest, Deputy Sheriff Brant returning with Foaman to Geneseo for the inquest.

Shortly after the arrival of Hazlett and Foaman at the county seat a telephone message was received by State's Attorney Bowen stating that the shooting occurred but no one seemed to know how badly Vanbuskirk was hurt. The States Attorney instructed Constable Wm. Duvall to investigate and the Constable took charge of the remains pending the arrival of the coroner.

As soon as authentic information was received State's Attorney Bowen notified Coroner Saylor by 'phone, who proceeded at once to the scene of the crime, arriving there about 9 PM in the evening. A jury, composed of John McPhail, D. E. Blade and Warren Collins was empanelled and the investigation taken up at once. Adjournment was taken at 2 AM until morning when Foaman was examined. The witness at first denied that Hazlett did the shooting, claiming that Vanbuskirk shot himself. The Coroner questioned him very closely and he finally admitted that Hazlett did the shooting, telling substantially the story as related above. Foaman stated Hazlett promised to pay him well if he would help him get clear and they had agreed to put the blame for the shooting on Vanbuskirk.

The coroner's inquest brought out the fact that while Vanbuskirk had on his person a 32 calibre revolver, with six shells in the cylinder, every shell was loaded. When found Vanbuskirk had on the heavy leather mittens and the scarf was wound around his neck bearing out the testimony of Foaman that he was in the act of leaving when the shooting occurred.

It seems there has been bad blood between the two men for some time, threats having been made by both parties. It is also alleged that Vanbuskirk had attempted to induce Hazlett's wife to leave the latter and go with him.

Coroner Saylor, who made the post mortem examination, reports the wound to be about three-fourths of an inch in diameter, blackened around the edges from the powder and that the shot must have been at close range. Strips of clothing were also found in the wound. The coroner took out buckshot and about a dozen smaller shot and the gun was found from the muscles in the back of the dead man.

Hazlett was held on a complaint sworn to by Coroner Saylor and was arraigned before Justice Bradley. Through his attorney, S. A. Sweetman, he filed an affidavit of prejudice and the case transferred to Justice C. H. Forman's court. On mutual agreement postponement was taken to Monday next.

George Oechsner, a former resident of Hankinson, died of Bright's disease at Port Arthur, TX, on Feb. 14th. He had been sick since December.

GREAT BEND....Died, last Friday evening, March 30th, Elmer, the second youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Worner, at the age of 12 years, of diphtheria.

Elmer took sick about a week before his death, but his case was not thought to be very serious and he was getting along fine until shortly before his death, when inflammation of the heart set in which caused his sudden end.

Elmer was a fine boy, always busy or at home studying; he was never loafing on the streets with bad companions, and was the joy of his parents, who are greatly grief stricken over his loss. Interment was made Sunday morning in the Evangelical Cemetery. The family has the deepest heart felt sympathy of the community in their sad hours of bereavement.

Mrs. Wilhelmine Milbrandt, one of the pioneer settlers of this locality, died at her home in this village on Sunday, April 8th, on the seventy-ninth anniversary of her birth. Deceased was born in Zimotsel, Pomeran, Germany, on April 8, 1827, and came to the United States in 1872, locating with her husband in Belford Township, this county.

Some years later the family moved to Hankinson, where they have since resided. She is survived by the husband, Wm. Milbrandt, and one son August Gollnick. A sister Mrs. Ernestine Jahr, also resides here, and there are nine grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren. Deceased has been in failing health for some time, and while her death was no surprise a large circle of friends mourn her loss. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, services being conducted at the German Evangelical Church by Rev. Kunz and interment was made in the Cemetery south of town.

EARTHQUAKE RUINS

City of San Francisco Destroyed Yesterday Morning.

1,000 PEOPLE KILLED, 2,000 INJURED

Fire Adds to Horror of the Situation, and Entire City is Being Wiped Out of Existence

LATEST BULLETIN:

April 19, 2 PM...Bulletin.... The city of San Francisco is doomed. Entire business and residence parts being destroyed by fire. No water available, and militia and firemen have used dynamite and gun cotton to no effect.

Nothing can be done to prevent destruction of entire city.

- - - - -

One of the greatest calamities in the annals of this country occurred shortly after 5 AM yesterday morning when the business portion of the city of San Francisco was laid in ruins by an earthquake shock and over one thousand lives lost.

Full details are still lacking. The shock occurred at 5:13 AM and was most severe in the business portion of the city. The greatest loss of life occurred in the crowded tenement districts, the frail wooden buildings collapsing like paper. The modern skyscrapers withstood the shock without serious injury to the occupants, but fire broke out immediately in all parts of the city. As the water mains and reservoirs were destroyed by the earthquake, the city was without fire protection, and dynamite was the only means of checking the flames, and this proved futile.

At last reports five hundred bodies had been recovered and it is estimated that there are fully as many more in the ruins. The list of injured is placed at 2,000.

The property loss can hardly be estimated at this time, but as practically the entire city is being consumed by fire it will probably prove as heavy as in the great Chicago fire.

REV. EDMANDS' BODY FOUND

The body of the late Rev. Edmands of Wahpeton, who was drowned in the river just before Christmas, was found last Friday morning by Theo. Jurgens and A. J. Formanek while fishing. The body had floated about four miles from where the unfortunate man disappeared in the ice.

The remains were in a fair state of preservation, though identification was possible only by the clothing and paper in the pockets. The river had subsided several inches during the week before the body was found, and it had lodged on a sand bar in the river.

The overcoat was on the body, which had evidently been preserved by the cold water.

The body was not disturbed until Coroner Kitley arrived from Fairmount, and an inquest was held. The verdict was accidental death by drowning.

The well known pastor of the Congregational Church at Wahpeton disappeared one day last December and since diligent search has been made for the body. At that time his cap was found near an air hole in the ice and it was presumed that he had fallen through and was drowned. A reward of $100 was offered for the recovery of the body of the unfortunate pastor and this will go to the two men who discovered it.

The body was shipped to Island Pond, VT., where the widow resides, and memorial services will be held at Wahpeton on Sunday, April 29th.

Deceased carried heavy life insurance, which could not be collected until the body was found.

Cornelius Shea, one of the pioneer settlers of this part of the county, died at his home in Elma Township shortly after noon Monday. He was in apparent good health to within four days of that time, but was stricken with pneumonia, and despite the best medical skill passed peacefully to the beyond in the presence of his relatives.

Deceased was born in Canada 49 years ago and was reared there, coming to Richland County in 1881. He filed a homestead in what is now Elma Township, and his brothers joined him two years later. They have resided there ever since, and are numbered among the most highly respected farmers of that locality. Deceased was never married, but is survived by three brothers, James, Jeremiah and John.

The funeral was held this forenoon under the auspices of the Catholic Order of Foresters, of which order deceased was a member, services being conducted at the Catholic Church by Rev. J. F. Studnicka. The edifice was crowded with friends and neighbors who sorrowfully paid their last tribute to the dead. Interment was made in the Catholic Cemetery south of town.

Mrs. Augusta Brummund was stricken with apoplexy in the yard at her home just north of town on Friday evening, and died the following morning at 4 AM.

Deceased was in the best of health and her sudden end was a great shock not only to the family but to her large number of friends. Mr. Brummund and the boys were at work on his other farm some miles distant, but were hastily summoned and were at her bedside when she passed into the last great sleep.

Augusta Krause was born in Germany and was 51 years, 6 months and 13 days old at the time of her death. With her parents she came to this country 28 years ago, settling first in Minnesota, where she was married to Julius Brummund. Twenty years ago they came to Richland County, settling first near Mooreton and a year later located on the farm where they have since resided. She is survived by the husband and eight children, four boys and four girls....Frank C. of Herreid, SD., Mrs. Oscar Dahl of Superior, WI., John, Herman, Julius, Hattie, Minnie and Adelia who are still at home. Three brothers also reside in this vicinity...John, Herman and Charley Krause.

Deceased had been a life long member of the German Evangelical Church and the funeral services was conducted by Rev. Kunz on Monday afternoon. The edifice was filled to overflowing with sorrowing friends who gathered to pay a last tribute of respect to the deceased. Interment was postponed until the following day on account of the non-arrival of Mrs. Dahl who was unable to reach here earlier.

Charles Griepentrog, one of the pioneer settlers of this part of the county, died at his home two miles southeast of here Monday night. He was in apparent good health until Monday forenoon, but while plowing his garden he was stricken with paralysis and several hours later he passed into a state of unconsciousness and despite good medical skill passed peacefully to the beyond in the presence of his family.

Deceased was born in Germany 53 years ago, coming to Richland County in 1883. He filed on a homestead here in Brandenburg township, and has resided here ever since. He was numbered among the most highly respected farmers of this locality.

Deceased leaves a widow and five children to mourn his untimely death. The children who survive him are Otto, who is married and has been living with his folks, Amanda and Mathilda who are also at home, Mrs. Wm. Gollnick of this vicinity, and Mrs. Robert Tiegs of Belford. The funeral services were conducted Thursday at the Lutheran Church by Rev. T. Hinck. The edifice was crowded with friends and neighbors who sorrowfully paid their last tribute to the dead. Interment was made in the Lutheran Cemetery south of town. The family has the deepest heartfelt sympathy of this community in their sad hours of bereavement.

Fred Sedler died last Friday evening at his home in this village after many years of suffering from consumption. His death came rather as a relief to his long suffering, and on Friday evening at 10 PM he passed peacefully to the beyond in the presence of his family.

Deceased was born in Germany on the 7th of October, 1864. At the age of 18 he left his mother country and came to Breckenridge, MN. He at once secured employment in the Great Northern shops and soon worked his way up to an engineer on the road. For many years he was on the run from Breckenridge to Aberdeen, following this occupation until about five years ago, when he was forced to quit owing to ill health. He then came to this place and entered into a partnership with F. Mitzel in the lumber and machinery business. About three years ago he disposed of his business interests, because his health was steadily failing and he was unable to take an active part in the business.

Since then he has spent his time in seeking recreation for his health, including a year in Texas, but all in vain. Deceased was a man of good habits, industrious and saving, and has well provided for the future of his family. Nine years ago he was married to Miss Millie Loll of this place, and by issue of their marriage three children were born unto them. He is survived by a widow, two children, an aged mother, five brothers and two sisters to mourn his untimely death.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the German Evangelical Church and were conducted by Rev. C. A. Bramer. The church was overfilled with sorrowing friends who paid their last tribute to the dead. Interment was made in the Evangelical Cemetery close to town. The family has the deepest heartfelt sympathy of all in the sad hours of their bereavement.

MOTHER AND BABES DROWN

A sad accident occurred near Bossko, Roberts County, Monday night, Mrs. C. W. Martin and three children losing their lives.

Martin, who is a well known farmer living about twenty miles southwest of Hankinson in Minnesota Township, took his wife and three children, ages 7, 5 and 3, to Sisseton Monday to see the circus. He started for home late at night, but took a different road from that followed in the morning. The high water had taken out the bridge over the Little Minnesota river near Bossako and Martin was not aware of this. As a result the horses fell to the river below but the wagon remained on the brink. Supposing his wife and children were still in the wagon, Martin labored to save his horses and succeeded in rescuing one but the other drowned. Returning to the bridge to reassure his wife, he found the wagon seat empty... the wife and three little ones had fallen from the high wagon seat and been swept away in the swift current.

Searching parties were at once formed and efforts made to recover the bodies, but at the last report the only body found was that of the 3 year old child.

The grief stricken father is quite well known here. His farm is in the neighborhood of the Fellbaum brothers, and his wife was a sister of Julius Frase. Frank Budack's farm also adjoins that of Martin. The case is a most distressing one, and has caused a feeling of gloom throughout the neighborhood.

LATER...The bodies have all been recovered and the funeral will be held tomorrow from the Norwegian Lutheran Church four miles south of the state line in Minnesota Twsp.

SUICIDE on the SOO

An unknown male passenger on Soo train 108 committed suicide by shooting himself through the head just before the train reached Valley City on Thursday of last week. He stood on the coach steps and evidently planned to fall forward after the fatal shot was fired, but a lurch of the train threw him back on the steps and he died a few moments later. From papers on the body it was at first supposed the unfortunate was Fred Stiggle of Considine, ND., but it developed later that Stiggle was at his home alive and well.

The man was ticketed from some point in Canada but so far all efforts to establish his identity have been unavailing. The authorities have had the body embalmed and it will be kept for two weeks if necessary to secure identification.

TWO BURNED TO DEATH

Burning Barn Entraps Members of Threshing Crew

Threshers sleeping in the hay loft of a barn four miles south of Straubville, Sargent County, accidentally set the structure on fire and two of the sleeping men were burned to death, two others will probably die of their burns, and a couple of others are in a serious condition but will probably recover. TRAGEDY!

Chris Luick Shoots Wife and Mortally Wounds Himself

Chris Luick, a well known farmer residing ten miles southwest of town, shot his wife in the shoulder and later shot himself through the bowels Saturday, from the effects of which he died twenty-four hours later. The woman's wounds are not serious and she will recover.

A representative of The NEWS visited the Luick home Sunday and from the eldest son, Paul, secured an accurate account of the tragedy.

Luick has been a heavy drinker for years, and when under the influence of liquor seemed to become a fiend incarnate. He had made threats against his wife and members of the family times without number and had gone so far as to attempt to carry out his threats.

Just before noon Saturday, and while his wife was preparing the midday meal for the threshing crew that was waiting in the barn near by, Luick appeared in the kitchen door of the little home, and as his wife, who was in the east end of the narrow room, turned from her position at the kitchen table to see what he wanted, the crazed man fired at her with a 32 calibre revolver from a distance of not over twelve feet. The bullet entered her right shoulder, and as she rushed past him to the outside Luick walked through the door by which he had entered, passed through the dinning room and into a small store room where he seated himself on a pile of sacks.

When the son Paul and two members of the threshing crew rushed into the house they located Luick who was evidently trying to shoot himself as he was seated, his back to the door, which was open a few inches. As they started to enter the room Luick heard them and quickly turning fired point blank at the trio, the ball lodging in the door jam a scarce three inches from Paul's head. The men retired quickly from danger and Luick passed out doors through a door from the store room to the east side of the house. Here again the crew attempted to close on him but he held them at bay with his gun, firing two shots, one of which passed through the hat of a member of the crew. The crazed man then ran down to the section road which passes through the west end of a long slough a few roads from the house. Standing on the edge of the grade, which has a deep ditch of water on either side, Luick fired the last remaining charge in the weapon into his bowels. He fell backward onto the road and was later taken up and was removed to the Hospital at Lidgerwood, whither the wounded wife had already been taken.

An examination of the woman's injuries revealed a painful flesh wound, but at no time was her condition dangerous. The ball passed through the shoulder from the front and lodged in the flesh at the back.

Luick's first inquiry when he reached Lidgerwood was as to his wife's condition, and he expressed regret when told she would recover. He was shot through the intestines, which were pierced in seven places, and from the first it was seen his case was hopeless. He died Sunday afternoon at 1 PM, almost exactly 24 hours from the time of the shooting.

Luick was a well-to-do farmer, owning a 480 acre farm where he lived (about a mile southwest of the pond known as Gully's slough or Schuett's Lake) and three quarters farther west a few miles. He was somewhat past the fifty mark in years while the wife is in the forties. They were among the early settlers and have a family of ten children, six of whom live at home, the youngest a girl of nine years.

Luick's abuse of his wife and family has been notorious for years and neighbors expressed little surprise when they heard of the tragedy, in fact many had predicted something of the kind. He was insanely jealous of his wife when drunk, though there was no foundation for his jealousy. He had been under the influence of liquor for a month or more before the shooting and a short time ago attempted to destroy the home by sprinkling gasoline over the house but was overpowered before he could apply a match. He generally carried a gun during hissprees and last spring fired three shots at his son Paul, a lad of twenty, and has frequently endangered the lives of his household.

MURDER in A BOXCAR

In Attempted Hold-Up Farm Laborer is Shot to Death

A ghastly tragedy was enacted in a Soo boxcar early Monday morning between Enderlin and Wyndmere which resulted in the death of August Ringus, a farm laborer, at the hands of hold-up men. Ringus was shot through the right temple, dying instantly, and the murderers escaped and thus far have not been apprehended.

James Harbin, who was in the car at the time of the killing, was in town Monday afternoon and gave The NEWS the following account of the affair:

"At Enderlin, Ringus and his partner, who up to a few minutes before were strangers to me, crawled through the end door of a car loaded with wheat with the intention of riding as far east as the brakemen would permit and I went in with them. This was at about 3:20 in the morning. Being dark, one of the men lighted a candle and we sat around it in a circle. Shortly after the train started, within five minutes, two other men entered the car through the same door and for a short time remained in the end of the car in semi-darkness, we occupying the space between the side doors. In a very short time one of the fellows arose and passed through our circle, kicking over our candle but not extinguishing

it. I paid little attention to him and must have dropped into a doze, for the first thing I knew afterward I heard a command to "hands up" and by the time I was fully aroused the fellow who had passed through our circle, had me covered with a revolver. He asked where my money was, and I told him in my pants pocket. Just at this moment I heard a shot behind me but did not look around for fear of being shot myself. The fellow who had me covered was very nervous and thrust his hand into my pocket but secured only a copper cent, overlooking the balance of the change, less than a dollar, in the same pocket, but he did not find this. The man who did the shooting did not search his victim, but went through the latter's partner, securing $15 from a bill book in his coat pocket. I was not in a position to watch their movements and remained with my head turned the other way, fearing any movement would result in my being shot. The partner of the man who was shot says the robbers backed out after searching him, keeping us covered with their guns and after going through the end door locked us in. We then turned our attention to the man who had been shot and found him to be stone dead, the bullet having entered his right temple. He must have been sitting up when the shot was fired and the body fell forward, his head resting between his knees. He never uttered a groan after the shot was fired and must have died instantly. We found a revolver concealed in his breast pocket and it is likely he attempted to pull this out and the robber saw the movement and fired. We then attracted the attention of the brakeman who opened the door of the car and we explained the situation. The body of the dead man was taken off at Wyndmere and we were held as witnesses."

When the train reached Hankinson Marshal Heley took two young men into custody and they were held on suspicion. Harbin was brought down on train 108 but was positive the men were not the guilty ones. However, as he had seen but one of the robbers Sheriff Robbins, who came in via Fairmount, took the men to Wyndmere the same evening for inspections by the dead man's partner. He also said they were not the right ones and as the pair gave a satisfactory account of themselves they were allowed to go.

Ringus, the dead man, is the son of a prosperous farmer residing near Spencer, WI., and his partner was the son of a neighbor. The father was notified by wire of the tragedy and arrived Tuesday to take charge of the remains after the inquest. Harbin whose account of the affair is given above, is a laboring man and gives San Francisco as his home.

WANTED for WIFE MURDER

Former Resident Charged with Awful Crime in California

Anton Besold, formerly of Hankinson, is wanted at Los Angeles, CA., on a charge of killing his wife. No particulars are known here beyond what is contained in the above sentence.

Besold came here early in July, 1902, and founded the bakery now conducted by N. Schultheis. He was a baker by trade but had been discharged from the regular army less than a week before his arrival. He had been stationed at Sault St. Marie, MI., before coming here and his term of enlistment expired on July 2, 1902, and he left the following day for Hankinson, having been in correspondence with E. M. Jones for some time in regard to locating at this place.

He opened up for business about the middle of July in the building adjoining the one in which the bakery is now located, but a few weeks later bought the present bakery building.

Besold had served three years in the Philippines and was minus the first finger of his left hand. In conversation with the writer one time, he remarked that the finger was shot off by a Philipino warrior. This missing digit goes a long way toward identifying the part wanted at Los Angeles as Besold, for the murderer is described as having lost a finger.

Within a short time of his arrival Besold went away and returned in a few days with his bride. Some are of the opinion that the couple were never married, but there seem to be no substantial reasons for believing this to be so. Besold claimed he had worked for his wife's father before he entered the army, and objection to their marriage was given as his reason for enlisting. Whether parental objection was removed or whether the couple were married away from the bride's home no one knows. Mrs. Besold's family home was a small town a few miles from Des Moines, IA., and she visited there part of the winter following the marriage.

Besold continued in business here until Sept. 4, 1903, when he sold out to N. Schultheis and left with the statement that he intended to join the army again and return to the Philippines. Nothing is known here of their wanderings from that time until a letter from A. K. Maloy to The NEWS editor, written from San Pedro, CA., was received this week containing the following paragraph:

"What I wanted to write you most about was one Anton Besold who sold out the bakery to N. Schultheis. He is wanted in Los Angeles for killing his wife...or rather a man by that name. I wish you would make inquiry about him and his wife. Was she sickly? About how old were they? Did he have a finger off his left hand? Also any particulars you can find out regarding where they went and about their parents, etc."

Besold was known here as a rather morose individual, and it is said that he was inclined to ill treat his wife. She was an even tempered woman of about thirty years, and of a decidedly sunny disposition. Besold was probably between 35 and 40 years old.

The NEWS has asked Mr. Maloy for further particulars of the affair, and we hope to be able to give them next week.

ENGINEER ROASTED to DEATH

VALLEY CITY, ND., Sept. 29th....At noon today one of the most shocking accidents in the history of Barnes County occurred about twelve miles north of this city.

Charles Ford, an engineer in charge of a threshing rig on the farm of William Avers, met an awful death. A fire started under the engine and the flames threatened to injure it. Ford mounted the footboard to get the engine out of danger. His clothing saturated with oil, caught fire and he became panic-stricken and ran wildly across the stubble field, the flames enveloping his figure.

The members of the crew gave chase, but he dropped from exhaustion before they could reach him. He was about a quarter of a mile away before the flames were extinguished. His body was literally roasted and he died shortly afterward. He was a well-known Barnes county farmer and leaves a wife in poor health and two small children.

MURDER at WHEATON

Wheaton, MN., Oct. 8th....As the result of a stabbing affray Edward Raymond of Omaha is dying with a knife cut extending from the base of his skull to the point of his chin, and two others, one of them Oscar Bartlow, is seriously cut about the head and shoulders.

The cause of the row is a mystery. The two Van Winkle brothers, farming the old Dale ranch, west of Lake Traverse, came to town and were in Korsbrek's Saloon drinking with Raymond, and without apparently any provocation, started a row. Raymond was the nearest to them and was stabbed, nearly bleeding to death before a doctor was secured.

Bartlow happened in with the third man, just in time to get four ugly gashes. Both the Van Winkles are in jail, and give no explanation. The dying man and Bartlow have been working on threshing rigs around this place for several years, and had the reputation of being quiet and orderly.

BESOLD is CAPTURED

Story of Terrible Crime with which Former Resident is Charged

Anton Besold, the former Hankinson resident who was badly wanted in Los Angeles for wife murder, has been captured in Washington, DC., and taken to the scene of the crime. The accused man denies his guilt but the evidence against him seems overwhelming. His trial is set for October 29th, and the authorities claim to be in possession of enough evidence, though it is all circumstantial, to secure his conviction and execution...for the offense is punishable with death in California.

The murder was one of the most diabolical in the history of the criminal annals of Los Angeles, according to accounts printed in the papers of that city.

After leaving here in Sept., of 1903, Besold and his wife seem to have covered a good deal of territory, seldom remaining long in one place. At various times they were in Omaha, Texas, Washington state and other places, and in May of the present year located in Los Angeles, where Besold purchased a butcher shop....gaining some notoriety at that time by pulling a gun on one of the parties from whom he purchased. The couple were boarding and on the 11th of July left their rooms together, stating that they would spend the day on the beach. Besold returned to the house alone in the evening and told the landlady that his wife had taken the afternoon train for Summerfield. A week later Besold left for the north without stating his destination.

On the morning of August 8th a man driving a lumber wagon stopped in a lonely canyon a mile and a half north of Los Angeles to water his horses. After watering his team the man caught sight of what seemed to be a pair of woman's shoes partially concealed by heavy underbrush. On closer investigation he was horrified to find the body of a woman in an advanced state of decomposition. Hurrying to the city, he notified the authorities. The body was removed to the morgue, but closer search failed to reveal anything that would lead to the identity of the remains. A bullet hole squarely through the temple told the cause of her tragic death. The clothing was minutely described in the daily papers, a skirt of changeable silk being given the most attention. Finally by means of a laundry mark the identity of the body was established as that of Mrs. Claudie Besold, but not until two other suspects had been shadowed for several days and the names of half a dozen missing women connected with the case.

As soon as the body had been identified the search for Besold began. He was traced to Bellingham, WA., where they had formerly resided and here he told his wife's sister that he had parted with his wife, giving her $5,000 with which she had gone to Mexico. In San Francisco he had informed other friends that his wife had died in Los Angeles and he had had the body cremated. He also sold some of her clothing to a woman with whom they had previously boarded. He stated to his sister-in-law and her husband that he was about to enter the saloon business in Los Angeles and induced her to entrust him with $800, the couple to accompany him south and the husband to act as bar keeper. With this money he disappeared.

He was traced by the officers to Denver, thence to Chicago, and finally to Washington, DC., where he was arrested on the morning of Sept. 20th. He was taken back to Los Angeles and on the morning of Oct. 9th, arraigned before a justice. At the request of his attorney the prisoner's examination was continued to Oct. 29th, and at 9:30 AM that day Besold will again be taken into court. He expressed great surprise when arrested and was as calm as any spectator when brought into court.

Mrs. Besold had been suffering from tuberculosis of the arm for a long time and was considered incurable. To rid himself of the burden of caring for her and at the same time secure possession of some diamonds and a valuable watch, is supposed to have been the motive for the crime.

His sister-in-law, from whom he had taken the $800, has attached what money he had left, some $500, and this case is still unsettled.

The Los Angeles papers are profuse in pictures of the couple and also show pictures of the murdered woman's garments, the place where the body was found, etc. The pictures of the man and his victim are easily recognizable by those who knew them here, one showing Besold in his baker's cap and apron being especially good.

The NEWS has arranged to keep track of the trial of the case and our readers will be kept informed of all developments.

The trial of Anton Besold, formerly of Hankinson, resulted in a verdict of murder in the second degree at Los Angeles, CA. Sentence has not yet been passed but he will probably be given close to the maximum, for the murder of his wife was one of the most dastardly in criminal annals. Sentiment here would have favored hanging, but as the evidence was all circumstantial the jury hesitated to inflict the supreme penalty.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Witt, wife of Wm. Witt, passed away on Tuesday after months of suffering from cancer of the stomach. The end had been expected for some time and she passed into the last long sleep peacefully, surrounded by her relatives and friends. With true Christian fortitude she endured the months of pain with a full knowledge of its ultimate fatal termination.

Deceased, with her husband, was among the pioneers along the Wild Rice, but a few years ago they became residents of Hankinson. A large circle of friends feel her loss keenly and all sympathize with the bereaved husband.

The funeral was held this afternoon, services being conducted at the house by Rev. Zersin, and the remains were laid to their final rest in the Wild Rice Cemetery, north of town.

Tony, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Kern, died on Saturday evening of appendicitis, at the age of eight and a half years. The little fellow was sick about ten days and succumbed to the effects of an operation, which was the only chance of saving his life. Besides the sorrowing parents, four sisters are left to mourn the untimely end of Tony, who was one of the brightest and most popular little fellows in the community.

The funeral was held on Tuesday, services being conducted at the Catholic Church by Rev. Studnicka. His school mates attended in a body and among the beautiful floral offerings was a wreath from the children.

Mr. and Mrs. Kern wish through the NEWS to express their gratitude to the neighbors, public school teachers and the children for their kindly aid and sympathy in the hour of their bereavement. The solicitude and sorrow of the children touched the parents deeply.

BESOLD SENT UP for LIFE

Sentenced to Life Imprisonment for Wife Murder

LOS ANGELES EXAMINER, Feb. 26th....Anton Besold was sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin penitentiary yesterday for the murder of his wife. Judge B.N. Smith, who pronounced the sentence, did not permit the prisoner to make a statement as to why judgement should not be passed upon him.

"I am not guilty," said Besold in response to the Judge's question. "The truth is that...." The judge interrupted him by saying:

"It is the judgment of this court that you be confined in the state's prison during the continuance of your natural life."

"I am innocent," Besold was heard to say again under his breath, "and I shall never work in the state's prison."

Officers who heard the remark expressed the belief that Besold intended to commit suicide rather than be confined in the penitentiary.

The attorney in the case filed the usual motion for a new trial.

Otto August Ponath, 36 years old, died at his home in this village on Sunday after an illness of about two months. Typhoid fever following an attack of diphtheria was the cause of his death.

Deceased was born in Germany on Aug. 22nd, 1871, and came to this country with his parents when six years old, settling near Glencoe, MN. Three years later they moved to North Dakota, joining the Grent Bend colony. In 1889 deceased settled in Taylor Township, Sargent County, but in 1893 returned to Richland County and has since resided in this vicinity. He was married seven years ago to Miss Annie Stein, and besides the widow, two sons, aged four and two respectively, are left to mourn his loss. His aged mother also survives him and is a resident of Hankinson.

The funeral was held yesterday, services being conducted at the German Lutheran Church by Rev. Zersin at 2 PM and interment was made in the new cemetery on the Wm. Westphal farm. A brother, Emil Ponath of Great Bend, and two sisters, Mrs. Herman Illig of Havana and Mrs. Mary Miller, with their families were among those who attended the funeral. Three other sisters were unable to be present owing to illness.

Henry Cowley Parslow, Sr.; was born on March 31st, 1830, at Cambrige, Gloucestershire, England.

Three years later his mother died and his father left him an orphan. Thirteen years later, at 22, he came to the United States, settling among relatives on a farm at Hassan, Hennepin County, MN., where he lived until 1868, when he moved to Delano, MN., where he was married to Anna B. Thompson, on March 4th, 1870. Four years ago they moved to Hoffman, MN., making their home with their younger son, Whipple Fay...where he peacefully passed away on March 14th, 1907, at the age of 76 years, 11 months and 14 days, surrounded by his wife, daughter Annie E., and two sons, W. F. of Hoffman and Henry C. Jr., of Hankinson, ND.

Funeral services were held at the residence, Hoffman, MN., at 2 PM, on Saturday, March 16th, Rev. Godward officiating, and at W. H. Landis' Undertaking Rooms, Minneapolis, at 2 PM on Sunday, March 17th, Rev. Haupt of St. Mark's Church officiating. Interment was made at Lakewood Cemetery.

DEATH OF A PIONEER

Wilhelmina Schroeder, wife of John Schroeder, Sr., died at her home in this village on Monday morning at 9 AM, in the seventy-third year of her life. She had been ill for several months and the end was not unexpected.

Deceased was born on Dec. 12th, 1834, in Germany, and on Nov. 18th, 1856, was married to John Schroeder. Two years later they emigrated to the United States, settling near Mayville, WI. In 1881 they came to Richland County, where they have since resided, settling first in Belford Township and later in Greendale. About a year ago they became residents of Hankinson.

Deceased was the mother of eleven children, nine of whom survive her and all reside in this vicinity. They are : Mrs. Chas Hein, Mrs. Peter Lenzen, Mrs. R. Bellin, Mrs. E. A. King, Mrs. Chas. Paulson, John A., Otto, Albert and Emil. One brother, John Wendt, is a resident of Belford Township. The husband also survives her but is in failing health. Deceased lived to a ripe old age surrounded by her children and forty grandchildren, and only last November the aged couple celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon and the German Evangelical Church was crowded with sorrowing friends who assembled to pay their last respects to one who was universally esteemed for her many good qualities. The services were conducted by Rev. Kunz and interment took place in the cemetery south of town.

April 18, 1907

Julius Frazee passed away at his home on the north side of town on Monday morning at 9 AM of consumption after a lingering illness.

Deceased was born on July 19th, 1872, in Germany, and settled over in Minnesota Township 13 years ago, moving to town last fall. He was married to Emma Coleman seven years ago and is survived by the widow and five children, besides his mother, four sisters and one brother.

Deceased was highly respected by all and the sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

The funeral is being held today from the Lutheran Church across the line in South Dakota, of which Rev. Cloeter is pastor.

April 18, 1907

An error as to the surviving relatives was made in the obituary notice of Mr. Julius Frazee as printed in last Week's NEWS. Besides the widow and mother, there are four brothers and one sister still living. Of these the mother, sister and one brother, residents of Minnesota, were present at the funeral. Mrs. S. A. Lidsay, a sister of Mrs. Frazee, came from Staples, MN., also to attend the funeral, accompanied by her husband.

Mrs. Frazee wishes through these columns to express her thanks to friends for their many acts of kindness during the dark hours of her sorrow.
